

TRINITY NEWS

When I was a child we played “Follow the Leader”, we would take turns in being the leader, then try and make the path as difficult as possible so that those who followed would stumble, fall or be too scared to attempt the cliff, the climb, or the jump from the house roof. My elder brother Philip would usually win. Mark's account today is not much different. He tell Peter that to follow him is not going to be all “beer and skittles”, and the fist obstacle in the course of life is to deny our self to the point we are open enough to receive new teaching. Is it possible to follow this leader Jesus Christ? If so how?
