PENTECOST 20. OCTOBER 7, 2018

Mark's gospel account brings out the issue of divorce. There were a number of 'divorce rules' developing around relationship, land and wealth, which favoured the men, and marginalised the women. Some were using marriage as a means of capital gain. Jesus gives a reminder of the celebration of two becoming one from a motive of love and growth. Like of a 'not for profit' venture. The real profit comes from celebrating a new life and union in which two people can accept and love one another for who they are, not what they have.

Blessings

Fr. Peter
